Motor Car Service Will Make Good Connections.

When Installed on Union Pacific Branch.

Also Better Hours.

Passengers Will Not Arrive in Topeka Late.

Other Items of Interest on the North Side.

When motor car service is established on the Onaga branch of the Union Pacific by May 1, as indicated on the following Union Pacific time schedule, the connection with the Union Pacific will be made at the point of perfection.

According to present plans the motor car is to arrive in Topeka at 9:30 a. m. and leave at 2:30 p. m. This schedule will give connections with the following Union Pacific trains: No. 107, westbound, due here 10:38 a. m.; No. 102, westbound through train, due 12:05 p. m. and No. 104, eastbound, due 2:29 p. m. Good connection with the Grand Island will also be made at the Marysville end.

The week officials of the road are looking over the branch and it is generally understood that the motor car service will be the result. This was predicted in the State Journal last fall. At that time the business of the road had increased so that heavier engines had to be used. An extra coach was added to the accommodation. The business is still increasing but the roadbed being comparatively new will not admit heavier engines. Then with as much switching as is done, the freight or accommodation car cannot get the demands of passenger traffic.

At present the mixed accommodation schedule is as follows: Leave Topeka 10:40 a. m., arrive Marysville at 10:40 a. m. The train which leaves Topeka at 10:40 a. m., according to time card, is scheduled to arrive in Marysville about 5:20 p. m. But it always does it "scared." The increase of business has necessitated so much switching that the trains are hours behind their schedule as a usual thing. It has been enough to leave Topeka at 10:40 a. m., according to time card, to get to Marysville at 5:20 p. m., but it is worse not to get there until just before the roosters crow—that is, in the country.

Then on a motor car people will really realize that they are moving and not have to strain the imagination to get to the present accommodation. It is also stated that while waiting for the switching to be finished, the train to proceed on its way the passengers play checkers on the car steps on mild winter days, and in the summer time steal watermelons from garden patches, for these butterflies and gather buttercups.

Notes and Personal.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Barnes and Miss Hazel Barnes of 911 North Harrison street are visiting in Kansas City today.

Mrs. John Harold and daughter, Miss Florence Harold, of 1228 North Logan street, accompanied Aaron Harold and family on a flying trip to Manhattan in the latter's new auto.

Approaching Motorcar Could Not See Danger Because of Shadow.

Buffalo, N. Y., April 23.—Ten persons were injured, two of them fatally, in a head-on collision between two trolley cars under the shadow of a viaduct on Swan street here, early today.

Arthur Moon, 43 years old, conductor, has a fractured skull, and Mrs. Ray Collins, 50 years old, has a broken back. Claude Hall, a motorcar man on one of the cars, was not injured. Conductor Moon was catapulted through a window, his head striking a pillar of the viaduct. Mrs. Collins was buried beneath the wreckage.

Car became crippled by a defect in the machinery as he was crossing from the northbound to the south-

SHE FELL IN LOVE.

Why Dancer at Novelty Left Legitimate Stage.

From a directoire gown model to an actress and from the legitimate stage to the vaudeville because she fell in love is the career of Mrs. Frank Malone, who does an acrobatic dance with her husband at the Novelty this week. They are billed as "Monsieur & Madame" Mr. Malone began his vaudeville stunts in a sawdust pile near an old saw mill at his home in St. Paul, Minn., and has been in the acrobatic business since he was 11 years old. Seven years ago he was in Topeka at the old Novelty on Kansas avenue in an acrobatic act with Roselese.

No, Mrs. Malone is not from New York, either. Her home is in Tacoma, Wash., and she thinks there is no state like Washington for a home. Oh, yes, vaudeville people and other theater people have homes just like other people. Many of them are reared and reared carefully and do not just "grow" like Topsy.

At Tacoma Mrs. Malone was Miss Irene Reeling. No, again. Her name was not a minister. A great many people think that either the narrow life of a minister's daughter induces girls to the glamor of the footlights or that their parents were both poor and cruel to them and they ran away from home. Not so in this case. The father of the clever dancer at the Novelty was a lumber contractor and the mother was a dressmaker.

A few years ago she demonstrated a directoire dress in one of the large stores in Tacoma, according to the young woman. (She says she is 19 years old, and really she doesn't look like an old lady.) On account of her unusual appearance she became a Thespian.

But let her tell it.

"No one in our family as far back as we know was in the show business," said Mrs. Malone as she waited in the wings for her "turn."

"It just cropped out in me. It happened one day when the directoire gowns first came out a few years ago I was asked to demonstrate them and did so in one of the largest stores in Tacoma. The people at the theater saw me and they thought I was a chance to do little parts. I took it. I was with the McEae stock company for some time."

"No, really I couldn't dance a step, couldn't even shake my foot until I met Mr. Malone. That was at Everett, Wash., about three years ago. It was a case of love at first sight. We decided to get married and then he took me to Topeka."

"And she does mighty good work, too," put in Mr. Malone, who was standing nearby.

"I like vaudeville much better than the regular drama. We are so much more independent. And there is more money in it than in the legitimate stage."

Mrs. Malone's career is equally as unique.

"A lot of us kids practiced all kinds of flip flops in a sawdust pile near an old saw mill at his home in St. Paul, Minn. John Bell, now a famous acrobat, and the boys known now as Wells & Sells were in the bunch. I got to be pretty good when I was a year or two old. I wish you could have seen that circus I gave about then in a tent made of gunny sacks and a donkey hitched to a wheelbarrow as the main feature of the parade."

"I wish you could have seen me tumbling around (literally) ever since. I used to make balloon ascensions and high dives when just a kid. (Mr. Malone is only 28 years old now) I had to be strapped in the parachute to keep from falling out."

"What do you think when you are doing a high dive?"

"Well, you fix your eye on a certain spot in a net and you know you've got to hit it. But that's the whole story. Ballooning is comparatively safe after you have had some or two accidents. Of course, the parachute when first cut off from the balloon falls like a shot for about seventy or eighty feet and makes you sick at your stomach for a while. But I can't say I had after you get used to it."

BURNS TO DEATH ON GRAVE.

Old Man Starts Forest Fire Burning Trash at Cemetery.

Great Barrington, Mass., April 23.—Forest fires continue to do widespread damage throughout this section. In the outskirts of Great Barrington have denuded more than 200 acres of choice woodland, and scores of men are at work today in an effort to subdue the flames.

One of these fires was started by August Bergmann, an aged farmer, who had been at work cleaning the weeds and bushes from about his life-size grave in the cemetery here. He was burned to death on the grave by the blaze which he had started to dispose of the gathered brush.

WOMAN DIES; DOGS KILLED.

Canines Befriended by Mrs. Ella Bart Chloroformed at Her Death.

Newport, R. I., April 23.—Surrounded by a score of dogs of many breeds, Mrs. Ella Bart died here yesterday and had befriended Mrs. Ella Bart, 58 years old, died at her home here last night after an illness of two weeks.

Seeming by instinct to realize the loss of their benefactress, the dogs whined and howled in a dismal chorus for several hours after her death until they were put out on the misery early today by the use of chloroform, in accordance with the express wishes of Mrs. Bart.
